ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Opening

1. The 151st Annual General Meeting (AGM) was held on Wed., Aug. 22, 2018 at the Winnipeg RBC Convention Centre. Dr. Maria Alexiadis provided support as Chair.

Annual Report

2. Dr. Brian Brodie, CMA Board Chair, presented the annual report. Dr. Brodie thanked the organizers and participants of the CMA's inaugural Health Summit, a landmark event that helped generate bold new ideas and will inspire future conversations about steering change for better health for Canadians and a more vibrant profession. He highlighted multiple initiatives from the past year, including the sale of MD to Scotiabank and seniors' care advocacy efforts, leading to the creation of a new federal Minister of Seniors. The health care landscape is in constant flux and focusing on the issues and causes that matter to Canadian physicians will help guide our future work. One such issue of ongoing concern is physician health and burnout and the CMA will be hiring a physician leader to join the senior team who will focus exclusively on physician health. Approval is being sought at this meeting for a new structure for the modern CMA that would streamline the Board, sunset General Council and move key elections to the membership.

Appointment of Auditor

3. Dr. Guruswamy Sridhar, Chair of the Audit and Finance Committee, provided a brief overview of the CMA's current financial position. CMA continues to contest the Canada Revenue Agency's position with respect to GST/HST on membership dues. It was noted that the membership fees for students, residents and retired physicians are being waived for 2019. The fee for regular members would be decreased to $195. Dr. Sridhar then presented the following motion.

The Canadian Medical Association will retain PricewaterhouseCoopers as auditors for the 2019 fiscal year.

Resolution AGM 18-1

Carried

Bylaw Amendments

4. Dr. Shelley Ross, Chair of the Governance Committee, outlined the guiding principles that informed the recent governance review and led to the current bylaw amendment proposals: engaging innovatively and inclusively in courageous and influential dialogue to advance health in Canada, increasing direct communication and engagement with members, choosing a governance model that reflects the needs of the corporation and supports CMA 2020, modernizing CMA's governance structure, and using an incremental approach. She thanked the General Council Task Force for engaging in extensive consultations with multiple touch points.
5. Dr. Ross noted that the Board is proposing four general areas of changes (winding down General Council, moving elections to the membership, decreasing the size of the Board and changes to the committee structure). A new Nominations and Appointments Committee would enact changes (e.g., online voting, timing) for electing the President-Elect and Directors. Board composition and size would be reduced from 26 to 19 based on a model of one director per jurisdiction plus the Presidents, Chair and a non-physician; this would be achieved via attrition. All committee members would be also appointed by the Board of Directors.
6. Members and delegates engaged in a question-and-answer session regarding the proposed changes. The Health Summit, member policy proposals, online surveys and an enhanced AGM with regional hubs were noted as some of the avenues that are being implemented to increase member engagement.
7. Dr. Alexiadis sought consideration of a motion to approve all the bylaw amendments as outlined in Appendix A of the 2018 Report to Members. All motions were duly moved and seconded.

The Canadian Medical Association approves the bylaw amendments outlined in Appendix A of the 2018 Report to Members.

8. After discussion with participants about sunsetting General Council, changes to the nominations and elections process, and a series of proposed alternatives and provisos, it was decided to decouple the original motion into sections and vote on each separately.

Motion to Refer

The Canadian Medical Association will refer the proposed bylaw changes to the Governance Committee, to consult with provincial/territorial medical associations, resident and student associations and report back no later than the next annual general meeting.

Defeated

Motion to Split

The Canadian Medical Association will split the motion AGM-02 on approving the bylaw amendments into four categories (winding down General Council, nominations and elections, Board composition and housekeeping).

Resolution AGM 18-2

Carried

The Canadian Medical Association approves the bylaw amendments as they relate to winding down General Council and related transition provisions outlined in Appendix A to the 2018 Report to Members.

Defeated

The Canadian Medical Association approves the bylaw amendments as they relate to the composition of the Board of Directors, committee structure, and related transition provisions outlined in Appendix A to the 2018 Report to Members.

Resolution AGM 18-3

Carried

9. It was noted that current directors would complete their respective terms of office.

The Canadian Medical Association approves the bylaw amendments as they relate to nominations and elections, and related transition provisions outlined in Appendix A to the 2018 Report to Members.

Defeated

The Canadian Medical Association approves the bylaw amendments as they relate to the remaining housekeeping provisions outlined in Appendix A to the 2018 Report to Members.

Resolution AGM 18-4

Carried

The bylaw amendments included in the 2018 Report to Members as Appendix A, as amended during the 2018 Canadian Medical Association (CMA) Annual General Meeting, are confirmed as the Bylaws of the Association; and in order to finalize such Bylaws, the Board of Directors is hereby authorized to make such changes to the Bylaws as may be required to ensure consistency and coherence throughout.

Resolution AGM 18-5

Carried

Installation of President and Inaugural Address

10. Dr. Gigi Osler was installed as CMA President for the 2018-2019 association year. Dr. Osler addressed participants on her vision and plans for the year ahead, emphasizing three main foci: improved physician health and wellness, increasing diversity in the profession, and enhanced advocacy. Dr. Osler shared her personal story dealing with burnout in an effort to reduce stigma and help normalize the needed conversations about physician health and wellness. She also spoke about the opportunity for advocacy with the upcoming 2019 federal election and the importance of continuing to dialogue about innovation in Canadian medicine. In closing, Dr. Osler thanked the membership for their trust and the honor bestowed to her to represent the profession and encouraged continued passionate engagement from members.

Celebrating the profession: CMA awards

11. The CMA Awards gala took place at the Delta Hotel, Winnipeg on Tuesday, August 21, 2018.

GENERAL COUNCIL

Opening

14. The meeting of General Council was held at the RBC Convention Centre in Winnipeg on Aug. 22, 2018.
15. The meeting was declared to be duly constituted and in session by the Speaker, Dr. Maria Alexiadis. Welcoming and introductory remarks were provided.

A Code of Ethics and Professionalism for today's medical profession

16. Dr. Tim Holland, Chair of the Ethics Committee, presented the proposed revised CMA Code of Ethics, noting that the new code needs to be both aspirational and prescriptive and continuously reviewed based on the current landscape. The new code was informed by surveys, member forums and key informant interviews, as well as consultations with members, patients, the public and stakeholders. The Charter of Shared Values was commended as a crucial building block for the code.
17. Participants congratulated Dr. Holland for his work on the new Code of Ethics and Professionalism and provided comments and feedback. In closing, it was noted that consultations should be complete by end of September 2018, with final approval of the new code expected this fall.

Elections

18. The elections were held Wednesday, Aug. 22, 2018 with Dr. Granger Avery presiding.
19. Dr. Avery sought consideration of the following motion:

General Council approves the use of plurality voting in elections when there are three or more candidates.
