New Brunswick

THE NEW BRUNSWICK RESIDENT EXPERIENCE

Residents of the three largest cities of Fredericton, Moncton, and Saint John enjoy urban amenities with a friendly, small-town feel. Rural residents are never far from a major centre, due to the province’s compact size.

Members of the New Brunswick Medical Society (NBMS) have access to benefits designed to support the work, health, and lives of medical residents. The NBMS hosts practice management sessions at clinical training sites throughout the province, and has also produced a Practice Management Toolkit. Residents are represented by the Members in Training Committee, and can attend NBMS annual events for no charge. Members are also kept up-to-date with members-only bilingual communications about the behind-the-scenes work of the NBMS.
